

Big dreams! Impossible it seems
Nothing is too hard for God ...

EMPOWERMENT CONVERSATIONS[©]

with

Kedasha Dallas Goode

Matthew 21:21-22

Assuredly, I say unto you, if you have faith and do not doubt, you will not only do what was done to the fig tree, but also if you say to this mountain, 'Be removed and be cast into the sea,' it will be done. And whatever things you ask in prayer, believing, you will receive. NKJV

Jeremiah 18:6

"O House of Israel, can I not do with you as this potter?" says the Lord. "Look, as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are you in My hand, O house of Israel!" NKJV

Think about it ...

Dreams - the vision and subsequent belief of an ambition or aspiration that you wish to be materialized in reality.

Big Dreams - an amplified vision and subsequent belief of an ambition or aspiration that seems impossible to attain in reality.

Matthew 4:19-20

And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men. And straightaway, they left their nets, and followed him. KJV

What is it that you envision? What dreams do you have? Is there a dream so big, so unattainable that you will not let go off its possibility, because you believe in its reality? Dreaming is a beautiful vision of something(s) you want to achieve. Believing in that dream is the most important and tedious part of the task because being hopeful of what you cannot see is like a roller coaster emotion of doubt, fear, what ifs and maybes. However, when you believe something, you have to complement that belief with solid and consistent action(s). That action(s) means a concerted and disciplined movement to be mentally in tune with your dreams, physically ready to seize opportunities and emotionally fit to be self aware of what drives you.

I have been in a situation where I craved a breakthrough so bad that I could actually feel it, that feeling was reflective of my strong belief. Suddenly (and for a brief moment) life's gruesome reality of disappointment stole my dream and I became withdrawn and despondent, thinking that impossible things are a foregone conclusion. It's ok to feel like this when you have a dream, but it is not ok to operate or stay in this mind set. You will become lifeless and visionless. In my low state, I looked into the mirror, reflected on the (many) blessings I had and used that gratitude to dismiss my solitude and revitalize my fortitude. I sat still, prayed non stop, tapped into the quiet moments of my heart without the mayhem of the world and I was back on my feet dreaming. I realized my God given power – ACTION, that is, to do something! My reactivated reckless faith was the compass that directed my action to use my initiative, seek opportunities, be diligent about my objectives and allow God to favor me according to His perfect plan.

Dreams fly on wings of belief and action; they soar on faith in God to unimaginable places and they feed on wholesome mental meals.

We live in a world that has cultured our thoughts and actions to be so much in control that when things doesn't work according to our vision we get paralyzed into defeat, or so we see it. We cannot help this feeling because life is so shocking, it's frightening; yet it is so precious leaving you with limitless reasons to persevere in the midst of sporadic scares. When I didn't get my long awaited breakthrough the way I wanted it or within the time frame I prayed for, I questioned God. Soon, I realized that I was not underserving, instead, my time wasn't the right time because I had to grow some more, trust God some more and submit to His will. I finally received what I had been praying for – A profession that would allow me to maximize my potential and challenge me to step outside my comfort zone to grow both personally and professionally. I dreamt it. I kept on believing it (with hiccups in between but) alas I received it. Nothing is indeed too hard for God!

Kedesha is an accredited Foreign Language Educator of Spanish & French. She studied in Jamaica, Puerto Rico, Spain & France. Her insatiable passion for personal and professional excellence have allowed her to wear many hats which include: Author, Teacher, Children's Story Teller & Writer, Empowerment Mentor/Speaker, as well as Creative Director for Wedding Graphics. She aims to inspire, empower and encourage persons to be deliberate about pursuing their God given purpose(s). Kedesha promotes intentional positive energy so that the negative elements of life will not permeate our persona and cripple our growth.

I: @kedgoode

I: @creativegoodnesshub

W: www.kdallasgoode.com

E: kedesha.dallas@gmail.com

T: 876.822.5634

Dream. Believe. Receive

Do you have a dream?
Create it! Envision it!
Do you believe in your dream?
Own it! Action it!
How bad do you want to receive your dream?
Claim it! Conquer it!
When you dream,
You visualize the unimaginable,
No matter how unattainable,
God is able to do the impossible.
When you believe,
You activate your faith,
Doubt and fear may speculate,
Sidetrack what your dreams create,
with a long and tedious
Season of wait.
But! Partake in the wait.
While the wait is not always great,
Don't stumble or shake,
Believe that you have what it takes.
Belief elevates your dream,
To conceive the thought,
Pray for what ought,
To be yours that cannot be bought,
That is a mentally strong mind,
That will action, action and action,
No exception but with dedication,
Dream and Believe the intangible.
To receive the impossible,
From the God of all creation!